INVESTIGATION TIPS AND FIELD EQUIPMENT USAGE

FIELD SAFETY: Accidents that happen in the field can be prevented with a little forethought. Some research teams put little effort to reduce risk in the field and to be prepared for emergencies. Tripping over tombstones in the dark, falling down steps and getting separated from your team are but a few of the stories. All can be serious incidents. How about a paranormal team member who neglected to tell the group of medication he needed every 4 hours and almost died because of his failure to do so. A few minutes devoted to team safety before going out to investigate a report is not only wise, it is essential.

- Phone numbers of local hospitals and emergency services for an area you are not familiar with.
- A first aid kit of the personal type is a must.
- An emergency strobe light attached to your gear or person can be a lifesaver if you are out and about in heavily wooded areas.
- A whistle is also a good carry item.
- Dress properly for the investigation and weather conditions.
- Watch weather for possible storms in the area you will be in.
- Carry a water vessel and an energy bar.
- If you start feeling fatigued sit down and rest. Heat stroke comes in many ways and can be deadly.
- Carry some hard candy in case a diabetic team member has an issue.
- Know your team's medical needs. A bee sting can be as deadly to some as snakebite.

- Be aware of your surroundings.
- Two-way radios are always an asset on an investigation.

I don't know of any researcher that does not have a cellular phone. Have team member numbers distributed to all. Always stay with a teammate. Never venture out alone.

Notable UFO Quotes

- "The evidence is overwhelming that Planet Earth is being visited by intelligently controlled extraterrestrial spacecraft. In other words, some UFOs are alien spacecraft. Most are not. It's clear from the opinion polls and my own experience, that indeed most people accept the notion that some UFOs are alien spacecraft. The greater the education, the more likely to accept this proposition"
-- Stanton Friedman Defense Contractor Nuclear Physicist
- "The UFO phenomenon being reported is something real and not visionary or fictitious"
--General Nathan Twining Chairman, Joint chiefs of staff, 1955-1958

- "When the long awaited solution to the UFO problem comes, I believe that it will prove to be not merely the next small step in the march of science, but a mighty and totally unexpected quantum leap." "We had a job to do, whether right or wrong, to keep the public from getting excited"

--Dr. J. Allen Hynek, Director US Air Force project Blue Book as a scientific consultant, astronomer, investigator and analysis.
